| School visit                            | With collaboration from the children I create a character which I draw on a big flip chart sheet. Then we put this character into action. A short story is developed page by page and I illustrate as the story evolves. Everything is projected onto a screen. If time permits I present my portfolio and answer questions concerning the universe of books. Sometimes I tell the children a story as would a storyteller.  |
